Ex-Communist To Lecture Monday

Schlesinger Next Speaker In Series

The chairman, Joe Rowan of the Student Council Lecture Series announced that Dr. Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr's., April 19th appearance on campus has been confirmed.

The contract to appear on campus and present "Foreign Policy in the Atomic Age" has been cleared with the White House as it was made before Dr. Schlesinger's government appointment.

This presentation is expected, as Dr. Schlesinger is "democratic liberal", to almost diametrically oppose Mr. Buckley's Liberal Ideology and the U.S. Foriegn Policy. This achieved will fulfill a main objective of this year's chairman of presenting a complete lecture series including two opposite ideologically oriented presentations on a contemporary subject of common interest.

Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., "ranks among the foremost in the new generation of vigorious social thinkers," says the New York Times. In 1946, at the age of 28, he was the youngest historian ever to win the Pulitzer Prize when he received it for "The Age of Jackson". "The Crisis of the Old Order," the first volume of his new work "The Age of Roosevelt," has already received enthusiastic reviews and was a Book-of-the-Month Club Selection. He is established as one of America's leading historians.

The son of Arthur M. Schlesinger, also a distinguished historian, he was born in Columbus, Ohio and was brought up in a family that migrated from Ohio State University to the University of Iowa to Harvard. Arthur, Jr., was graduated summa cum laude from Harvard in 1938 and the following year his honors essay was published under the title of "Orestes A. Brownson: A Pilgrim's Progress." It received high praise from the critics and was a selection of the Catholic Book Club.

During the war Mr. Schlesinger served in the Office of the War Information in Washington and in the Office of Strategic Services in London, Paris and Germany. He was Deputy Chief of the OSS/Paris Reports Board, and a corporal in the Army. In the meantime, he completed work on "The Age of Jackson", a book he had worked on before the war as a Henry Fellow at Cambridge University, England, and subsequently as a member of the Society of Fellows at Harvard.

Mr. Schlesinger's third book, "The Vital Center", a brilliant discussion of contemporary political and social problems, came out in 1949;

Jan Karski

"The General and the President", an analysis of American foreign policy in terms of the issues raised by President Truman's dismissal of General MacArthur and written in collaboration with Richard Rovere of the New Yorker, came out in 1951. In the meantime, Mr. Schlesinger returned to Harvard as associate professor of history in 1947. Since 1950 he has been full professor. He has contributed articles to Life, Fortune, Atlantic Monthly, Harper's, Saturday Evening Post and other periodicals.

During the 1952 and 1956 campaigns Mr. Schlesinger was a member of the staff of Governor Adlai Stevenson. He has also served in recent years as a consultant for the Economic Cooperation Administion and the Mutual Security Administration.

"The Crisis of the old Order", the first volume of Mr. Schlesinger's "The Age of Roosevelt", a portrait of America during the years 1932-45, was published in March, 1957.

Foreign Policy in the Atomic Age

What are the purposes of foreign policy? Our foreign policy since World War II: the Soviet thret and the American response. The great revolutions of our times; the technological revolution, and the social revolution.

by John Howe

On Monday, March 27, at 8, in Austin Hall, Dr. Jan Karski will give a lecture on "The Communist Outlook."

This should prove to be a different type of lecture from the others that have been given at SMC. With the worsening of relations between Poland and the Catholic Church, the talk is expected to be most timely and exciting.

After a talk of 40 minutes, a 10 minute question period will begin. After that, there will be a short break.

Then Dr. Karski will return and continue his lecture, this time from quite a different viewpoint. As before, a 10 minute question period will begin after the lecture.

Dr. Karski was born in Poland where he received his M.A. in Law and his M.A. in Diplomatic Sciences in 1935. During the war he served with the Polish Underground. He was captured by the Nazis and the Soviets from whom he escaped.

Dr. Karski's "Story of a Secret State" that came out in 1944, became a Book-of-the-Month selection.

Later he served with the Polish Embassy in Washington D.C., from which he resigned and made his residence in the U.S. when the United States recognized the Warsaw Regime as the government of Poland.

He obtained his Ph.D. in the States and is presently teaching at Georgetown University.

All those who have the opportunity to attend this lecture should do so, for it will provide an insight into Communism, as seen from different vantage points.

Tragedy Hits St. Michael's College,

Two Seniors Killed In Auto Accident

by Robert Camisa

Tragedy and sadness have again struck St. Michael's. Early Monday, March 20, while returning from a holiday weekend in New York City, David K. O'Mara, '61, and Michael H. Leonard, '61, were killed when their car went out of control and crashed in a field near Benson, Vt. Two others were seriously injured, and two others less critically.

Michael H. Leonard, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Leonard of 25 Prospect St., Norwood, N.Y., owner of the car, was pinned beneath the front wheels and was dead on arrival at Rutland City Hospital.

During his three and one-half years on the hilltop Mike was a Dean's List student in Business Concentration and an active member of the Business Forum.

Everyone will remember Mike for his easy mannerisms and nonchallant attitude before pressing exams. In the years to come many will forget these characteristics but the memory of the "grinder man" will never leave our minds. The funeral was held on Wednesday, March 22 at St. Andrew's Church, Norwood, N.Y.

David K. O'Mara, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. O'Mara of Summit Ave., Central Valley, N.Y. and driver of the vehicle, was seriously injured and was suffering from skull fractures and facial lacerations when found after the accident.

He survived the night in Rutland City Hospital and died the next afternoon never regaining consciousness.

At St. Michael's, Dave was a Biology concentrator. Among his many achievements, he was a Major in the AFROTC program, a former captain and crack shot for the SMC Rifle Team, and a member of the Flight Indoctrination Program sponsored by the Air Force for qualified advanced cadets.

Dave was known for his likable personality and his ability to make friends anywhere. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's Church, Central Valley, N.Y., Friday, March 24, at 10:00 A.M.

Seniors Richard J. Barry, West Hartford, Conn. and Gerard E. Humiston, Chateaugay, N.Y. were also involved in this tragic mishap. Hospitalized but reported in satisfactory condition Barry suffered scalp lacerations while Humiston incurred a broken arm and facial cuts.

John Conway, '63, of Albany, N.Y. and William Powell, '64, Garden City, N.Y. the other two students involved were treated at Rutland City Hospital and released.

Bearers for Leonard were Thomas Ambrose, George Hinerth, Joseph Hart, Joseph Kennedy, Arthur Kohler, John Moore, Robert Simpson and Francis Steele.

Bearers from the AFROTC for O'Mara were Robert Cornell, Roger Crake, Carl DeNisio, Robert Hesler, Lincoln Streeter and John Varol. Rev. Leon Paulin, SSE, moderator of the senior class, represented the college at both funerals.

To Attend Conference

The Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, SSE, Rev. Paul A. Morin, SSE, and Rev. James R. Coombs, SSE will attend the 58th annual convention of the National Catholic Educational Association, Fr. Dupont is a member of the executive board.

The theme of this year's convention, at Atlantic City, N.J., April 4-7, will be "The Objectives of Chriscian Education in Contemporary Society."

Fr. Morin is to be the recorder at the discussion on "The Contemporary Political World", in The College and University department.

Glee Club Plans Tour

by David G. Coupal

The Knightly troubadours are off again!

The St. Michael's College Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. William Tortolano will journey by bus this weekend to Nashua, New Hampshire, home of the Rivier College coeds, for a Sunday afternoon concert. The vocalists from the Hilltop hope to repeat their success of two weeks ago when they sang a joint concert with the girls of St. Joseph's College in Hartford, Conn.

The 45-man club shall leave at 1:30 Saturday afternoon for Nashua where they will spend the night before a "strenuous Sunday morning rehearsal in preparation for the afternoon performance," according to Jim Garofano, club Vice-President and accompanist. The program is scheduled to include the "Gloria" from Shumann's Mass in G, and a medley of songs from the musical comedy Oklahoma by Rodgers and Hammerstein sung by the combined Rivier and SMC Glee Clubs.

Let's Think

It seems rather ironic that on many Catholic college campuses, the students show a great deal of interest in one of President Kennedy's new frontier developments, the Peace Corps, while, at the same time, a question of greater significance is being, for one reason or another, pushed aside. That question is the President's program on Federal Education.

Overall, we must agree that in the two short months of the new administration, we find very little lacking. However, in the President's insistence that Catholic schools continue to bear the entire cost of their sustinence, we find an apparent example of a dilemma.

If President Kennedy fails to grant aid to Catholic schools, he, most probably, will be accused of temporizing the objective ideals of the new frontier program. If he does grant aid, he will be accused of favoring, inordinately, a religious group. The answer is not in sight at the moment.

From our point of view as Catholics and Americans, it would be quite unfavorable if our leaders, who have time and again maintained a belief in religious toleration, continued to demonstrate a regression of frontierism in letting a "minority group" bear alone the enormous education program that it has established.

Were these schools to be closed, the cost to the Federal Government in educating those thousands and of students (5,000,000 in fact) would result in many billions annually. And we would be completely justified in doing so for the very simple reason that we pay as much in taxes for public education as do any other Americans.

Good business policy would simply be to give at least nominal assistance to Catholic education, thereby establishing an insurance policy in keeping Catholic voices quiet.

Instead what is happening? The administration continues to cry foul when we ask for assistance! Separation of Church and State! That is the cry we hear! In effect, they, the same who clamor for equality in everything from bus seats to job opportunities, are demonstrating very poor psychology in working up the ire of the Catholic clergy and laity by reminding us that we are a minority group and second-rate Americans at best. Little do they realize the blessings heaped upon the taxpayers by this "agency of Rome."

The same people are only too willing to let Catholics educate themselves and then upon completion of the education, join the Peace Corps or serve in the armed forces or work for the government. This seems inconsistent, for whoever heard of getting something for nothing which is what our country is actually getting? They seem to say "We can't help you, but will you please help us."

The administration so far seems firmly entrenched in indecision or at least unable to consider the heart of the matter. It also seems incongruous for a man who shows so much foresight in other matters to become mired in accidental considerations concerning this most important problem.

Shouldn't we, as those caught in the web of this dilemma, concern ourselves with first things first, and then consider other programs such as the Peace Corps?

If the new frontier forges ahead only to retreat in other areas closer to home, we really aren't "pioneering" very far now, are we!

Recession At Lowest

By JOSEPH KENNEDY

From all indications, it appears that we have reached and passed the low point of the recession and that better days economically are ahead for our country.

How can I make this statement? Well, there are three major factors which I base this statement on.

The first factor is the stock market. Prices and trading on the stock market have been improving since President Kennedy took office and from all indications, they will continue to rise for some time in the future.

The second reason why I can state that I feel that we have passed the low point of the recession is that of unemployment.

Last month, unemployment decreased for the first time in over a year. Unemployment is still at a 6.8% figure which is still very high, but is down from the recession's high of 7% in January. President Kennedy hopes to bring unemployment down to a "healthy" 4%.

The third factor that influenced this statement is that of the balance of payments. The Commerce Department stated recently that the gold outflow "for some weeks now has stopped entirely". It also stated that the payments position of the country has shown substantial improvements. This is heartening because it indicates an improvement in our international trading position.

In the light of these three factors it is possible to predict an upraising in U.S. business both domestic and foreign in the near future.

St. Thomas Scores, Plays To Win In Any Sport

(CIN) - If the great medieval philosopher Thomas Aquinas were a professor in one of today's Catholic colleges, he might well be an avid reader of collegiate sports results.

Although St. Thomas is famous for his observations on more weighty matters, some of his words from a commentary on Aristotle's "Nicomachean Ethics" might be a motto for any team fighting for the old Alma Mater:

"To win is naturally delightful, inasmuch as there is gained thereby the estimation of one's own excellence; and for this reason all games of contest in which there can be victory are especially delightful."

Apparently Thomas would have approved collegiate sports as a natural and useful means for students to "work off steam."

Somehow, though, one finds it difficult to visualize the author of the "Summa Theologica" shouting and waving his arms at the side of a basketball court. Still, who knows?

Your prayers are requested for the repose of the soul of Mr. Ovila Lanoue, the father of Rev. John Lanoue, S.S.E., Assistant Professor of History at St. Michael's.

San Francisco's Black Friday

by Frank Lyons

The reason for the name will come later. The reason is mine, not Pennsylvania Democrat, Francis E. Walter's, (Chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities). What took place on that date started out to be a peaceful demonstration against the Committee. This demonstration was composed of College students from the University of California, Stanford University, San Francisco State, and the University of Southern California. You will notice that I said that it started out to be a peaceful demonstration, but the result of that Friday was the arrest of 68 students from the above mentioned colleges.

That I believe states the case, in a rather concise and true manner. But I still haven't explained the title "Black Friday". I would consider the day a "Black Friday" because it began a castigation of the thinking college student body of America

If any of you have seen the movie "Operation Abolition" you have been presented with a one sided report of the operations of Black Friday. What about the other side? Here it is.

The film states that the students were dupes of the "commies". What do they use as proof? A picture of Archie Brown, California's No. 2 "Commie" It makes no difference to the committee that A.B. the C. was subpoenaed by the committee for appearance, and that he was given the boot during the revival. (Where was he supposed to go, out the window?) Does the committee mention in the film that not one Communist finger-print was found out of the 130,000,000 unduplicated sets of prints that were on the scene after the police took "action." If it wanted to find out who the people were that "duped these students" (and I don't think these students were duped), why didn't it look at: 300 University of California faculty members who attacked the committee just before the San Francisco meeting, or the 160 members of the faculty of San Francisco State, or the Episcopal Diocese of California, or the California AFL-CIO, or the New York Times, or the New York Herald Tribune, or the Milwaukee Journal or the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, or the Des Moines Register and Tribune or the American Federation of Teachers, or the A.C.W.A., or the Y.D.C.A. These are the Villians that "Duped" the students.

Why did the students rebel? What incited the students was their exclusion from a public hearing. What they did when they were incited was sing and chant in the echoing rotunda of the building. ("There was no act of physical aggression on the part of the students" said Sheriff Matthew Carbery of the City and County of San Francisco on a TV interview two months later.)

The police, incited by the committee, responded in the only way policemen know how to respond to non-violent resistance. The picture shows some of the police action. But this one picture-- there were others, of girls beaten bloody, of four policemen attacking one student (nice odds)--put into focus one plain fact. The American Student is rejecting his old folks and the norms, which alone maintain their clutch on the world as it WAS. The students are looking on the world as it is today. This is not the world of "McCarthyism" and let's hope that it won't be the world of "Walterism".

The farce that is "Operation Abolition" is the result of "distortions", footage shown out of sequence, and overexaggeration of the Communist influence. If this film were shown as a campaign film against a politician, it would be termed, "mud slinging."

I believe that, if we are to keep America a strong Democracy, we will have to be ever mindful of maintaining the principles exposed in the first amendment to the constitution. These principles state that protection of the right of all citizens to practice the beliefs and associations, freedom of the press, freedom of religion, and freedom of assembly are inherent in our culture.

We must also be aware of the statement that President Kennedy made in 1950 that: "We have also seen a sharpening and refinement of abusive power. The legislative investigation, designed and often exercised for the achievement of high ends, has too frequently been used by the Nation and the States as a means for affecting the disgrace and degradation of private persons. UNSCRUPULOUS DEMAGOGES have used the power to investigate as tyrants of an earlier day used the bill of attainder."

We must never let unscrupulous demagogues turn into uncontrollable tyrants. It would have been better had Congressman Walter used whole truths instead of half-truths in attacking the students for their participation in the "Black Friday" riots.

New Birdseed Sneak Preview:

by two Sophomores

"Birdseed" is back!

Well guys, we've waited quite a while for a student union, and "birdseed" is glad to see that the students really appreciate and take pride in their new facilities. To show their appreciation, they have yet to break a pool cue or even lose one tiny, little pong-pong ball. Keep up the good work, men.

Overheard during one of our Tuesday war-game exercises, "Here comes BIG BAD BOB CORNELL". Boy, what summer camp can do to some people.

Attention all P.L.C. candidates. Quick Draw McGraw of the fourth floor Alumni is holding physical fitness classes in preparation for summer camp. Bring your own harmonica.

Besides a basketball, a flashlight is recommended for all those who wish to take advantage of the facilities in our field house. Tennis anyone?

If anyone has any information on who stole "St. Patty's Goat", see Frank Lyons (three quarters thoroughbred) on the double.

Dogpatch, the theme for this year's Junior Weekend, should be an inexpensive endeavor. Not many props should be needed.

Woody Herman has been engaged for tne Saturday night formal, but Birdseed has the word that it is a toss up between Dave Coupal and Joe Rose for Friday night's Jazz Concert.

This is not the end, but the beginning of the new "Birdseed". Libel suits be filed at the Public Relations Office.

Fr. Duford Again Draws Coat Of Arms

by Joe Guilfoyle

Fr. Gerald P. Duford, SSE, artist in residence at St. Michael's, has put his talent to work for the whole student body.

Fr. Duford has painted distinctive coats of arms for each of the dormitories. These shields will go on display in the bookstore after the Easter holiday.

As Father himself will tell you, the shields are unofficial. They are products of his imagination and are being offered to the students on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

Fr. Duford, who has been painting as a hobby for two and a half years, said that there was no reason behind his painting of the crests except that the idea sprang from the fact that everything he does is in some way or other connected to the college. The deep link with St. Mike's shows itself here.

The Crest of Ryan Hall shows four circles, half purple and half gold, representing the four floors. A motto in Greek is inscribed on the top to serve as an inspiration to all Freshmen and Sophomores: "Let knowledge spring out."

The Alumni Hall coat of arms sports the traditional sign of the eldest son, standing for the alumni, sons of St. Michael's.

The Lyons Hall shield, has the initials of Fr. D.P. Lyons, printed in three golden spheres in the upper right-hand corner. This is set on a green background with a red stripe running diagonally across the shield. The green signifies Fr. Lyons' Irish background and the red stripe indicated his undying generosity to St. Michael's.

The insignia for Old Hall is still in the drawing stage because of its special importance as the first of the dorms.

The three completed crests are on display in St. James Hall along with some other works of Fr. Duford.

Humble to the last, Father maintains that he is not an artist and insists that he paints for pleasure and relaxation only and that any of his works are to be had for the asking.

If these crests, the latest fruits of his labors, are accepted, he will be very busy for some time to come reproducing them and he will have made his works and skill a permanent part of St. Michael's.

ROTC Goes Outside

Luis Villares

Beginning March 28, the ROTC Leadership Laboratory drills will be conducted on the outside, weather permitting. The drills are in preparation for the Final Review to be held during Parents' Weekend in May.

The winter indoor schedule came to a close March 21 with a talk given by 2nd Lt. William Rooney, a 1960 graduate of Stl Michael's College, now stationed at Hanscom Field in Bedford, Mass. Lt. Rooney spoke about the life and duties of a Junior Officer in the Air Force.

Lts. Judge and Conley were guests of the Wing on Nov. 15, 1960, in the first indoor session. They spoke about Flying Training for Pilot and Navigator in the Air Force and in the Air National Guard.

Indoor meetings were resumed on February 21, 1961 with a talk given by Lt. Col. Leonard E. Zapinski on the mission of the Air Weather Service of the Military Air Transport Service. Col. Zapinski is the Base Weather Officer at Plattsburgh AFB.

To acquaint the Cadet Wing with the Teamwork Concept in USAF, 1st Lt. James Dermody of the Vermont National Guard gave a lecture on Feb. 28.

Mr. Wovington of General Electric in Burlington, Vt., addressed the cadets on March 7. He familiarized the Cadet Wing with the role of the General Electric Company in the production and development of space vehicles.

To acquaint the Wing with the operations of MATS, Mr. Chris Menadear of General Electric, formerly a pilot with MATS (Troop Transportation) gave a lecture and showed a movie on March 14.

Fr. Anderson To Offer Mass, Preach, On TV

by Frank Twarog

Fr. Moses B. Anderson, SSE, will offer Mass on the television program "Mass of the Crucified" on April 9. This program is the oldest religious television program in the U.S. and originates from the Passionist monastery in West Springfield, Mass. It is televised on WWLP Channel 2 at 10 A.M. Fr. Science Night For H.S. Students In Three Weeks

by Steve Austin

The 8th Annual High School Science Night sponsored by the St. Michael's College Chemistry and Pre-Medical Societies will take place Monday, April 17 in Cheary Science Hall.

The purpose of Science Night is to familiarize the high school student with the study of science on the college level.

In order to provide unity for Science Night, a central theme of "Space Research" has been chosen. The experiments to be presented will be explained in terms of how they contribute to the solution of particular problems encountered in Space Research.

Students from the Chemistry, Biology, and Physics departments will demonstrate, explain and answer questions on experiments they will perform that night.

It is expected that the number of students attending Science Night will surpass the 850 students who attended last year.

New Dormitory In Quadrangle To Begin Soon

by James Murphy

Construction of the new dormitory is scheduled to begin on April 1. It will complete the Quadrangle consisting of Ryan Hall, Alumni Hall Lyons Hall, and the yet unnamed and unbuilt domicile.

The Sewell and Smith Construction Company, which recently finished Lyons Hall, will undertake the task of erecting it.

The total cost of the building is anticipated in the vicinity of $700,000. The actual cost of erection is approximately $500,000, while it will cost an added $107,000 for plumbing and heating and $45,000 for equipment.

It will accommodate 217 students and will be ready for use in Sept., 1962.

Instead of being a replica of Lyons Hall, it will have a special lounging area.

When the dormitory is completed, the enrollment of the school is expected to reach 1200 and will thus allow for the elimination of some of the temporary buildings on campus.

Kohler, Curtin Chosen Chairmen '62 Jr. Weekend

by Xavier LaPrade

Even before the gates get swinging in Dogpatch, U.S.A., the Sophomore Class is organizing for Junior Week-end '62.

Such a week-end requires extensive planning. Therefore, from observation of what the Juniors do this year, the Class of '63 will gain valuable experience, but not at the cost of originality. This is the primary reason for early organization.

Getting things started, the Sophomores elected Arthur Kohler and Joseph Curtin as co-chairmen of the Week-end. These men both won by a considerable margin in a six way fight.

Both are known for their organizing ability, and both come from the same town, Waltham, Massachusetts.

Kohler has been chairman of the SMC Boston Club Dance. He also gained experience by working on High School dance committees with Joe Curtin.

Curtin, also has been an organizer. He was sole chairmen for two C.Y.O. dances held at the Hotel Bradford, in Boston.

Curtin and Kohler made it known that committee heads will be named the week after the Easter vacation. They are taking their time in scrutinizing the applicants, desirous of only the hardest workers. Persons will be chosen on their previous background and initiative.

Kohler made it clear that their work will be supervisory, rather than the sole workers for the entire week-end.

They believe that with originality and initiative the the Class of '63 has displayed so far, it will be without doubt the best week-end known of yet. (no comment until Dogpatch comes to the Hilltop.)

In over 100 countries people get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

SUMMER SESSIONS

Schedule Swells

Spencer Says

St. Michael's College will expand its summer session offerings to include Music and Art.

Dr. Robert C. Spencer, director of the Summer session, said the first of four summer cycles of courses in Music Education will be inaugurated this year.

Next year, the program of Art will be introduced. The programs, available on the undergraduate and graduate levels, are primarily offered for men and women teachers.

This summer, the program will feature Choral Music and Conducting. Next summer, the teachers will be able to explore the instrumental literature.

In the summer of 1963, the program will be geared for elementary school materials and methods and in 1964, secondary school materials and methods.

The courses will be taught by William Tortolano, director of music at St. Michael's, and by his wife, Mrs. Martha Kane Tortolano, high school music supervisor and concert soprano.

Tortolano, former assistant choral conductor at the New England Conservatory of Music, said the courses will be similar to those offered at Tanglewood workshops. Each student will be expected to prepare material and to conduct the student ensemble.

Sunday evening concerts will also be given by visiting artists.

The Summer session, scheduled from June 26 to August 4, usually attracts between 400 and 500 students from some 20 countries.

Scholars Seek Study Abroad

Time is running out for the summer scholar to make his study-vacation plans.

To help him answer the big questions of "what to study", "where to go" and "how to get there", the Institute of International Education this week released two publications on summer study.

For the first time, the Institute has devoted its educational exchange magazine-the IIE News Bulletin - to a comprehensive report of summer study opportunities. Articles, written by knowledgeable authors, cover such intriguing summer projects as foreign language training in the Soviet Union, Crossroads Africa, a seminar in Florentine art in Italy, and the Berkshire Music Center. In addition to these depth reports, the IIE News Bulletin includes two bibliographies - one on countries and another on summer programs.

The other Institute publication is a booklet entitled "Summer Study Abroad," a new up-dated listing of summer programs which the Institute publishes annually. The publication lists scholarship opportunities for numerous programs in all fields in 14 European countries, 6 Latin American nations, 3 countries of the Far and near East, and various award projects in Canada.

Anyone interested in either of these publications should write to the Institute of International Education, 1 E. 67 St., New York 21, N.Y. The cost of the IIE News Bulletin is 25¢. The "Summer Study Abroad" booklet is free.

Poland, Kenya, Jordan, Ecuador, et Al. Coming

by John Babiel

Another 16 week English course for foreign students begins April 10 at St. Michael's College.

Mr. Ernest Boulay, departmental chairman, announced that fourteen countries will be represented including Iran, Jordan, West Africa, Peru, Brazil, Poland, Kenya, Mexico, Ecuador, Honduras and Canada. One of those who will study English at St. Michael's, Rev. Roger De Voghel, S.J., currently lives in Leopoldville in the Congo.

Originating in 1954, as a program of English instruction for foreign students, this course has grown in importance and now exists as a departmental organization.

This department, the only one of its kind in New England, was established to give foreign students concentrated training in English, thereby enabling them to matriculate at any of the numerous colleges and universities in the United States.

Arnold Air Society Smoker, Lt. Col. Hesler in Charge

On Monday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m., the Arnold Air Society will hold a smoker for all basic ROTC cadets interested in becoming members of this elite organization.

At this smoker, the cadets will be introduced to the aims and purposes of the Advanced Air Force ROTC Program along with the aims and purposes of the Arnold Air Society itself. All cadets attending this smoker will also be given an outline of the complete pledge program including all relevant events, dates and assignments. These assignments will consist of talks by the pledge before the assembled group, tests on drill procedures and regularly scheduled drill periods.

The reason for the pledge program is to instill in the cadet hope, pride and desire to belong to this organization which numbers among its ranks the top Air Force ROTC cadets in the nation.

This will be the last chance this year for cadets to get nominated to the society this academic year. At this smoker pledge pins will be distributed and the pledge program will officially begin. At the completion of the pledge program, fourteen sophomore cadets and fourteen freshman cadets will be admitted to the society.

Do all Air Force Officers have Wings?

Decidedly not. In fact most executive jobs are on the ground. Of course, all officers may apply for pilot and navigator training if they meet the eligibility requirements. There will always be a need for piloted aircraft. And it is foreseeable that in your working lifetime, there will be piloted spacecraft—piloted and navigated by Air Force officers.

But right now, there is also a big future for college-trained Air Force officers on the ground. New and exciting technical jobs are opening up. Important administrative positions must be filled as World War II officers move into retirement.

How can you—a college student—become an Air Force officer? First, there's Air Force ROTC. Then for college graduates, men and women in certain fields, there is Officer Training School. The graduate of its three-month course wins a commission as a second lieutenant. Other ways are the Navigator Training program, and the Air Force Academy.

Some benefits that go with being an Air Force officer. Starting salary plus allowances compare with the average in equivalent civilian jobs. Then there's free medical and dental care, thirty-day vacation, the chance to win graduate degrees at Air Force expense, and liberal retirement provisions.

No, Air Force officers do not need wings to move up. There's plenty doing on the ground. Perhaps you could be one of these young executives in blue. Ask your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write, Officer Career Information, Dept. SC13, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Hon. Mention For Al; Sophs Capture Kings, Frosh Win Ducks

Capt. Al Baldini adds to his laurels the handsome citation from The Catholic Digest which gave him honorable mention on its 1960-61 All American. Coach "Doc" Jacobs wasn't too displeased either.

Both Kingpin and Duckpin leagues drew to a close Monday night with the Freshmen grabbing first place in the Duckpin league by virtue of a 4 to 0 win over the Seniors.

Bob Kosmidek, the frosh captain, took match honors with 328 while teammate Wil Daignault had the high single game of 121. In the Duckpin action, the Juniors defeated the Sophs 3 to 1, thus insuring Frosh's grasp of first place. Junior Paul Poissant bowled the high total of 311 while soph Morris Kittler posted a high single score of 121 in a losing cause.

It was freshman Lou DiNunzio and sophomore Paul Bonnette who ran away with the statistical honors for the year, however. The latter prevailed in the department of overall average (102 per game) while the former racked up the season's high single game (138) and series marks (362). Both of these totals were set by DiNunzio January 30, in a game against the Seniors.

In the Tenpin League, which was won by the sophomore squad, Senior Bill LeRoux compiled the high seasonal game average, racking up a 161 mark. He was closely followed by Gary Anemact, the chief cog in the sophomore title march.

Anemact posted a triple of 566 and tied with Soph Chuck Boyer for the lead in the high single, each bowling a 223. Runner-up in the single game high honors was Junior John Gilece with a 219, while Bill Gothers, of the Senior contingent, placed second to Anemact in the high triples with a 564.

Wrong Kind

—An eager freshman volunteered to assist the Rev. John A. Lanoue, a faculty member at St. Michael's College, as he tapped maple trees on the college campus.

Father Lanoue handed the student a drill and a bucket.

The priest returned a little later to find the freshman with blistered hands, a bewildered look but no sap.

The young man had drilled into the biggest tree on campus —but it was an elm.

Honor Al, Fitz; Baldini Top Scorer

St. Michael's College basketball statistics showed today that Capt. Al Baldini had emerged as the team's leading scorer. Al, who missed five games, managed to score 214 points for a 12.6 average.

Al was followed closely by Bob Hoehl who popped in 268 points in 22 games good for a 12.2 average per game. Others to average double figures were Fred Cerrato with a 10.8 and Joe O'Sullivan and Jim Fitzgerald with 10 apiece. Joe Stagner and Walt Baumann chipped in with 9.1 and 8.6 respectively.

The big men under the boards for the Knights were Fitz and Walt Baumann. Fitz pulled down 220 rebounds for a 10 ppg., while Walt was good for another 7 a game. Charlie Hart and Joe Stagner latched on to 6 each game.

The leading foul shooter was Fitz again. He made 70 altogether and shot for a 75% average from the free throw line. Fred Cerrato canned 47, also good for 75%.

Fred Cerrato had the best shooting mark. He canned 69 of 159 from the floor, good for an average of 43%. Bob Hoehl and Joe Stagner hit on 42% and 40% of their shots.

All in all, the team showed remarkable balance. There wasn't a real standout in any department, but four men averaged 10 points or better, and Baumann and Stagner were close to it.

If a standout had to be picked, it would be Fitz. With added confidence, Fitz proved to be the clutch man for the Knights in the second half of the season.

Marksmen Capture Hearst Match; Take Army Match Prize

by Joe Mauceri

The Varsity rifle team finished its regular season last Saturday with a dual match at Middlebury.

Sophomore Harry Haarup was the number two man in the meet. This was the final match of the year except for a Frosh meet this Saturday against the Norwich Frosh.

In the William Randolph Hearst match, St. Michael's finished first among the AFROTC teams in New England. In the First Army Area match the SMC team took first place in the AFROTC division. This meet encompassed all ROTC schools in the Northeast.

The Frosh team also had some fine shooters this year. Among those expected to enter Varsity competition next year are Frank Hagan, Joe Guilfoyle, Larry Cashman, Frank Longhi, and Corkey Lavazolli. Coach Deeves expects the SMC squad to be loaded with talent and is hopeful of a successful season next year.

Swimming Events Slated For April At Local YMCA

The Burlington Chamber of Commerce and the Burlington YMCA announced this week that on Friday and Saturday, April 14th and 15th the 1st SPRING AGE GROUP AND SENIOR SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS will take place at the YMCA pool under the sponsorship of the two organizations. Many college students from UVM, St. Michael's and Trinity are expected to compete in the senior division in what will probably be a colorful and exciting meet.

Competition will take place within five divisions: 10 and Under, 11 & 13, 13 & 14, 15 & 16, 17 & Over (SENIOR) with a total of 62 events. Elimination heats for the senior division are from 4-6 P.M. on Saturday, April 15th with all age-group and senior Finals scheduled for 7-10 P.M. Saturday.

Application blanks are available at the YMCA, the Chamber of Commerce office on Main St., Woods Sporting Goods Store, and the St. Michael's Athletic Department. Prospective competitors under 21 should secure their application blanks prior to leaving for spring vacation in order to comply with the conditions of the competitors release.

Birds, Dodgers To Cop Crowns

by Jim White

In the not too distant future, there will be a mass exodus in the south as the major league teams prepare to break camp.

In the waning weeks of the training period, each manager will give one more look at the rookies, wonder if the 35 year old regular will last the year, try to forget his already painful ulcers and pack his bags for the northward trek.

It is at this time of year that Las Vagas gives the odds on the contenders. Every sports writer begins to wonder where his club will stand in October. As is the custom, this sports editor is also up to his neck in batting averages, earned run averages, won and lost percentages and 'whathaveyou'.

After much thought, I have come up with one conclusion - the Dodgers are loaded. This could turn out to be one of the understatements of the year or, it could result in my being hung from the highest tree on campus. But I remain convinced that this is the Dodgers year. The National League had better walk softly - there is a new Dodger dynasty on the horizon and it is about to make itself known. This team is a manager's dream. It is two deep at every position.

Let's have a look at the Bums-: first base - Frank Howard or Norm Larker; second base - Charley Neal or Bob Aspramonte; short - Maury Wills or Bob Lillis; third base - Junior Gilliam, Charley Smith or Tommy Davis. The outfield will have Wally Moon or Larker in left, center will see Willie Davis or Don Demeter, right field will have Duke Snider (still going strong at 34) or Ron Fairly. Behind the plate will be John Roseboro, young Ralph Camilli, or Norm Sherry.

On the Mound will be Johnny Podres, Larry Sherry, Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax, Roger Craig, Stan Williams, and Ed Roebuck. This team has everything - youth, experience, hitting, and speed - it is enough to make a manager jump for joy. It is without reservation that I pick the Dodgers to win the National League pennant.

A look at the rest:

Second Place- Pittsburg Pirates- good pitching, reliable defense. Will fail in the long run because of the lack of the long ball, weak bench.

Third Place- Milwaukee Braves- exceptional hitting, best infield in the league coupled with one of the worst outfields. Will fail due to lack of first line pitcher to go with Spahn, Burdette and Buhl.

Fourth Place- San Francisco Giants- good hitting and outfield together with fair pitching. Lack of catching and steady infield will prove their downfall.

Fifth Place- St. Louis Cardinals- good pitching and adequate hitting. Weak behind the plate, no speed or bench and Frank Lane.

Sixth Place- Cincinnati Reds

Seventh Place- Philadelphia Phillies

Eighth Place- Chicago Cubs

AMERICAN LEAGUE

The junior circuit race should be close. It will probably narrow down to a three team race, the Yankees, Orioles, and Indians. Again I risk putting my neck in a noose, but I still like the Orioles nosing out the Yankees. I pick Cleveland to finish third.

The Orioles are strong on the mound, behind the plate, and have a strong infield. They are weak in the outfield but, Oh what pitchers! They have a mound corps that could well be the strongest in the major leagues. They have Chuck Estrada, 18-8 last year; fire-balling Steve Barber; Milt Pappas, 15-11; Jerry Walker, whose arm is now healthy. The bull pen has Hector Brown, Jack Fisher, and don't be too surprised if one of the starters is called in relief.

The infield features slugging Jim Gentile at first base. Last year he hit .292 and had 98 rbi's. At second base is Marv Breeding, shortstop has Rookie-of-the-Year Ronnie Hanson. Last year Ron had 22 home runs and 86 rbi's. The hot corner is held down by Brooks Robinson; a fine fielder, Brooks hit .294 with 88 rbi's. Outfield-fair at best.

If the outfield holds up and I'm guessing it will, the Birds are in the World Series.

Second Place- New York Yankees; good hitting, fair infield. Skowron and Mantle are injury prone. Yogi is getting old too. One of the worst pitching staffs in Yankee history.

Third Place- Cleveland Indians- infield, with Power, Temple, Held and Phillips is one of the best in the league. Weakness is erratic pitching staff.

Fourth Place- Chicago White Sox- mainstay is pitching staff and good defense. Old age and lack of long ball will hurt.

Fifth Place- Detroit Tigers- outfield strong with Colavito, ex-Brave Bill Bruton, and Al Kaline. Pitching fair. Weakness; infield and poor bench.

Sixth Place- Minnesota Twins- The Red Sox and the Twins will fight a bitter battle for sixth.

Seventh Place- Boston Red Sox- The Sox will lose the struggle for sixth.

Eighth Place- Kansas City Athletics

Ninth Place- Los Angeles Angels

Tenth Place- without a doubt, Washington.
